Bosses are a kind of many creatures to be found in ARK: Survival Evolved. These bosses are sometimes called Ultimate Lifeforms or Guardians and can be found in Boss Arenas. What defines a Boss[edit source] Lore Wise Bosses are the creatures used in Arks to test whether survivors are worthy of ascension and are extremely powerful. Bosses are separated by two subcategories: Guardians and Guards, which are used by Arks to test the strength of survivors and have different key characteristics that make them separate Guardians[edit source] Guardians are extremely powerful creatures used to test survivors and are usually different in this: They will always be kept in Arenas. They will always be raised servants to help them in battle. They will always have 3 variants with 2 out of 3 are color-coded to suit the difficulty, while gamma variations will be boss's original design. Everyone will be in the Ark. They can all be called by the Obeliska. They consist of megapitecus, Broodon, Dragon, Mantikor and Crystal Weavern Queen. There are also guards who are similar to the Guardians, and most importantly separates them that they are: They are extremely powerful. They can fully control the Ark and the beings in them (including the Guardians). They can see everything that happens in their respective Arks, as shown in explorer notes. They are the things that make the Arches function and work properly. When completely destroyed, the Whale will begin to self-destruct. They all have Tech caves. Only the Warden and Rockwell fall into the guard's category. Dungeons Bosses:[edit editing source] Ark: Survival Evolved Mobile(separate cannon) dungeons have many guardians, usually variants of ordinary animals that need to be defeated to acquire an element and Tek. The Argentinian version of Argentavis, which produces fire and possesses the ability to hit the target with wings) Broodgenetrix (female version of Broodmother and a smaller version, summons Araneomorphus minions) Beelzemorbus (female and larger version of Beelzebufo with Memaneura servants) Megapithicus Pestis (A larger version of Megapituk, just as there are Giant Experiences and Mesopithicus minions) Jula Beetle(A larger and more powerful version of the owl , there are ung talks) Dodobitus (A larger and more powerful version of Dodo with stunning capabilities) Obsidequus (A larger and more powerful version of Chalcotherium) Deodocuris Vastus (A larger and more powerful version of Deodocuris) Kubozoa multis (a stronger version of Cnidaria, capable of cloning when health descends) Noctis (the only presuption barefoot, looks like a man, a fiery unicorn and is aggressive. with the stones that the drops tame it). Misconceptions [source edit] THIS PART CONTAINS GENESIS SPOILERS: PART 1, SO IF YOU WANT TO AVOID SPOILERS, DO NOT LOOK IN THE GENESIS SUBSECTION. There are also 2 different categories of bosses, which are different in the gameplay and Lore from The Bosses of the Ark. 1. The Titans are completely separate from the bosses, but often mess with the bosses. They consist of Ice Titan, Forest Titan, Desert Titan and King Titan/Alpha King Titan, for more information about them click on the link above the Titan labels or the one within this sentence. 2. The 5 main AI and master controllers that are used in the simulation of Genesis. The chief AI functions similarly to the Guards, however, they are creatures like the Guardians and are as intelligent as the Guards, who share traits from the two subcategories of Ark Boss. The chief controller functions in the same way as the Supervisor, as he controls everything, including the Main AI. To some extent, however, it seems that it is not as necessary as the guards, since the Master AI themselves are extremely intelligent. In fact, the damaged master controller cannot fully control everything, as it cannot shut down Moeder, master of the ocean, as well as the other 4 AI masters and is only partially capable of managing the Genesis Simulation. It also seems that it cannot become the 5 main AI in the way that the Guards can become the respective Guardians of their coffin. There seem to be two types of main controllers: the original Master Controller, which controlled and controlled the Genesis Simulation together with the 5 AI and the damaged main controller, which was the Master Controller version of Rockwell, who hacked into a simulation of Genesis, controlling it similarly to how Rockwell took control of the Aberration and shut down 4 of the 5 masters AI only with my left Only Moeder, master of the ocean, who outsmarted Rockwell by self-concealing and preventing him from repelling it, as did the other 4 Master AI. Why there are different categories of Bosses[edit source edit] This section was created to clear up confusion in the community, why bosses are divided into categories and what makes them fit into a certain category without fit into others. There are 3 main categories of Bosses within Ark that branch out specifically due to erudition and gameplay. Keep in mind that all of them, regardless of category, are bosses and share several similarities, such as Health Facilities and Trophy Heads. However, they are categorized for much deeper reasons, both gameplay and story wise. The bosses of the Ark are the bosses used on the island, Scorched Earth and Aberrations all of which are within separate Arches and in irudes are used specifically to help train survivors to climb to the ground to help kill the Titans and purge corruption. They were created as a result of the Titans overscoring the planet. More can be seen above about what Boss. The Titans are massive and powerful creatures and are the cause of Ark's history, as together with an army of corrupt creatures they have killed billions of people who forced them to retreat. They are different because they are all above the 999 level and are global bosses. They also share that it is massive in size. Master AI are creatures used in the simulation of Genesis and are closer to the traditional Bosses of Kikov. For example, just like the Coffin Bosses Master AI are also used to help humanity. However, they are separate from Ark Bosses because they are used for a different purpose called Arrival. While Ark bosses are used to train survivors to eliminate titans and corruption, master AI is not used in the ark, but in the Genesis Simulation.
